Pfeffer's Case Will Come Before the Base ball Mogule, and the Chicago Club Will Try to Secure Him-Everybody Wants a Banketful of Schedule Piums-Will Asson Pay $1,000 Fine !- Back Ewing Here,

The annual spring meeting of the National League will convene this morning at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The magnates began arriving in town last night, and, as usual, it did not take long for them to glue their heads together. Naturally, they were nearly all anxious to hear about the late baseball deal in this city, where-President Andrew Freedman of the New York Club became one of their number. They sked all sorts of questions about the new head of the local club, and were very anxious to be me acquainted with him.

President Freedman had a short consultation in the Hoffman House early in the evening with John T. Brush of the Cincinnati Club, who recently signed Rusie. E. B. Talcott was present and soon had an opportunity to introduce Chris Von der Alie of St. Louis. About 8 o'clock the conference broke up and the magnates slid out of a side door to continue their wire pulling else-another combination at work. Soden and Conant of Boston, Byrne of Brooklyn, Hart of Chicago, and A. G. Spalding (who has retired) were talking earnestly when a Sun reporter asked what was going on.

"Why, really," they replied in a chorus, "there is nothing. We were merely talking about the weather."

This remark was sufficient evidence that something of importance was under discussion, for he magnates are always fond of joking. A man the knew considerable about the situation said iat the case of Fred Pfeffer was occupying the tention of the magnates, and that the Chicago n were doing all they could to secure the seres of the great second baseman.

The fact that Pfeffer and Jim Hart were seen several times together during the afternoon lent additional color to the story, and a prominent club President as much as said that with Pfeffer the Chicagos would be the best drawing card among the Western clubs.

The Louisville Club will bring Pfeffer's case before the League and will demand that he be reinstated. A member of the National Board said last night that the League could do nothing but recommend that the Board reconsider the case, which the Board could do or not, as they case, which the Board could do or not, as they might see fit.

But another authority stated that the League might vote to take the matter out of the Board's hands altogether. If Pfeffer is reinstated the Louisville Club will want to sell his release for about $X,000, but something might be done by which Louisville would have to surrender him to the Chicago Club for nothing. Whatever happens, there promises to be a hot fight on the question.

As the schedules will be adopted probably tomorrow, there will be no end of politics among the magnates to secure the choice of dates. Although N. E. Young is a committee of one on the schedule, and will bring a slate for the inspection of the delegates, it is said that nearly every club representative will flash up a schedule, home made.

every club representative will flash up a schedule, home made.

All sorts of guesses were flying around last night, the principal one being that Brooklyn vould open the season at Washington, Philaleiphia at New York, and Boston at Haltimore. Another guess was that the New Yorks would open the season at Boston on April 18, which is Lexington Day, and then the ex-champions would open the Polo grounds on April 19.

The first guess, however, has more color to it, because Boston, Brooklyn, and Philadelphia are anglous to open the season away from home, but it is deubtful whether Brooklyn has much of a desire to open in Washington.

According to another report the Cincinnatis, with the only Buck Ewing, will play at the Polo Grounds on Decoration Day, while the Clevends will be here on Labor Day. But this is a tess, pure and simple, for nobody outside of magnates knows what arrangement will be despressions of the Rules Committee, pub-magnates knows what arrangement will be de, he suggestions of the Rules Committee, publied in yesterday's Sun, will also come up for unsideration, but, judging from the comments of the magnates last night, there will not be cry serious opposition to the proposed changes. The Louisville Club intends to make a slift lick for $1,000 which Dr. Stuckey claims is ue him for Anson's violation of a playing rule stat season in leaving the field and taking his sam with him. According to the evidence and he published accounts of the episode, Anson roke the rule, but as his "pull" is something conderful it is believed that the Kentucky magnate will be up against it.

wonderful it is believed that the Kentucky mag-mate will be up against it.

Three prominent League managers are in town to attend the meeting and to make a few deals for players—Frank Selee of the Bostons, Al Buckenberger of St. Louis, and New York's for mer baseball idol, Buck Ewing, who is the head and front of the Cheinnati Club. Ewing looks very well, and, in conversation with a Sux reporter, said:

"Yes, I am going to try my luck as a manager, and hope to be successful. I have come on here to make a few deals, one of which might he an exchange of Chamberlin for German of the New Yorks. In fact, I would be willing to exchange Chamberlin for almost any good pitcher, as he does not want to play in Cincinnati any more on account of the way he has been treated there.

"For that matter, I have come in for some violent abuse from one who thinks he knows more about the game than I do and wants to run things generally. But he can keep it up as much as he likes, for it doesn't bother me at all. Any ball player who takes offence at criticisms is a directed. dunce.

"My leg is all right now. I broke a tendon back of my right knee last summer and had to stop playing. But since then I have fully recovered and feel as well as ever. I am going South with my team and intend to play first have.

"If my leg should bother me in the least, of course I would go right to the bench. That famous 'glass arm' of mine is much better than a year ago, and it will not interfere with my playing first base. I want to get several young players in the East and am looking out for all good ran.

"New York has a fast team, and Davis will make a first-class manager-captain. He is a wonderful ball player, and knows the fine points of the game. With such great pitchers as Meekin and Rusie, and the other lively members of the team, New York should be way up at the finish."

Frank Selee said that the Bostons would cut loose at the start, and that they would win the champlonship. "We have strengthened our pitching department," he said, "and will enter the coming race stronger than ever. I shall retain Bannon, whose brother has signed with New York, and is a most promising youngster, although we have Collins of last year's Buffalo team, who, I understand, is a very fine outfielder. We have also secured Sexton, the Brown University pitcher, and we believe he will turn out a winner. I think Tenney, the catcher, will be releas d, as we have enough already. Tenney is a good one and should be picked up. I think New York will be pretty close to Boston."

Buckenberger is also looking to make some should be picked up. I think New York will be pretty close to Beston."

Buckenberger is also looking to make some trades, and if Breitenstein will be put up by him the New York Club may offer some inducements to land the famous lefthander here. Buckenberger said, among other things, that he had cut loose from Al De Roy, who posed as the Pittsburgh backer of the late lamented American Association nightmare.

President Young did not strive until late, but Messes. Byrne and Conant were waiting for him to give a few hints on how the schedule plums should be dealt out. Reach and Rogers of Philadophia, the Wagners of Washington, and W. W. Kerr of Pittsburgh, did not arrive but will be on hand this morning.

Frank De Hass Robison of Cleveland will be unable to attend the meeting at all, as his father died vesterday. His interests will be booked out for by President Freedman, who received a despatch from him last night to that effect.

Louty and French Will Play for Maurice &

The results in Maurice & John's billiard tournament last night were: T. French (175), beat winner's high run was 19 and average 2 51-62.

M. Bergan (160), beat George Rouse (200), by a score of 160 to 178. Winner's high run was 24 and average 37-11.
The tournament has narrowed down to two next, E. Louty and T. French. Each has won seven games and lost none. They will meet tomorrow night to decide first and second prizes. There are four ties for the other prizes.

THE SUN than through any other medium published NEW YORKS OFF FOR FLORIDA. A Large Crewd of Cranks Cheer Them as

The New Yorks are on the briny deep this morning on their way to Jacksonville. They sailed on the steamer Tallahassee from Pier 34, cheered by half a thousand cranks and friends who stood on the dock as the vessel moved out into the stream. The boys were all in good spirits, and, barring a slight apprehension of seasickness, said they were glad to get in harness again.

At 2 o'clock, one hour before sailing time, the pier was crowded with enthusiasts who were waiting for a chance to see the Temple Cup winners, and when a wagon loaded with trunks, bat bags, bases, balls, and gymnasium apparatus was driven up to the freight room it was quickly surrounded, and all sorts of comments were made. Then there was a rush when Manager Davis arrived. He lugged a big value and carried a couple of new bats that will line out many a corking drive this season. Big Farrell and little Murphy were almost mobbed when they jumped off a car, and were compelled to stop and shake hands with everybody, whether they knew the cranks or not.

Stafford, the proposed second baseman, and Bannon, the new outfielder, came next, and there was renewed enthusiasm. Stafford's right hand was heavily bandaged. He said he cut it Monday night, but hoped that it would heal quickly. "I am sure I can play the bag," said he to THE Sun reporter, "and when I strike my gait you'll hear nothing more about McPhee and Pfeffer. All I want is a fair, square trial. I'll do the hear nothing more about McPhee and Pfeffer. All I want is a fair, square trial. I'll do the rest."

Bannon looks like a ball player. He is about Stafford's height and build, and is in fine shape. To all inquiries he replied that he was ready to do his best, and was glad to bave a chance to play in the League. Tiernan, Clarke, German, Knauss, Smith, and Houle followed, and were closely scrutinized. They all looked so well that the cranks feltentirely satisfied. But there were still two favorites to show up in the persons of Doyle and Burke. When they began elbowing their way through the throng they found it was hard work. Burkeville was well represented, and the little left fielder received an ovation.

The men boarded the steamer without delay, while Financial Manager Harvey Watkins, Secretary Boanell, Superintendent Bell, and President Freedman hustled around making final arrangements. A large box of buttonhole houquets from a local forist was then opened and each tosser of the leather ball was duly decorated. There was quite a competition among the players for good staterooms, each believing that certain locations might have the effect of preventing sentockness. Jack Doyle, who has shown a tendency lately to grow white under the gills, was introduced by President Freedman to the Captain, and the latter promised to take good care of the first baseman.

"You don't look like a man that would be subject to mal de mer," remarked the Captain, with a wink.

"Subject to what?" asked Doyle, looking puzzled. "Oh, well never that, Captain, whe continued when he saw the bystanders laughing. "Just tell me where the billiard room is. Dad Clark and I want to take a crack at the ivories." The Cantain told him to ask the first mate, and Jack hurried off to find out where he could wield a cue. President Freedman had a quiet talk with all the players and asked them to do their lovel best. Then, when he had given a few last instructions to Davis and Watkins, there was a blast on the whistle and the extreme end of the pier, and w was a blast on the whistle and the extreme end ried ashore.

The crowd had gathered on the extreme end of the pier, and when the steamer moved slowly out into the river they sent up a great cheer. The players were gathered in the stern, and they also sent up a rousing cheer, winding up with their peculiar war cry:

Occar, wow, wow!

Hoorsy: New York:

Handkerchiefs fluttered and the cheering continued until the Tallshassee was well on her way toward the bay. President Freedman was very much pleased at the send-off. He will remain here for the Lesgue meeting, and will leave for Jacksonville on Saturday aftermon over the Pennsylvania road. As has already been stated, Rusie, Meekin, Fuller, Van Haltren, and Wilson will join the team in Florida. Westerveit still refuses to sign, and was left at home.

Before leaving Davis said he had arranged a game with Cornell, to be played at the Polo grounds on April 15.

TUESDAY, Feb. 26. A fairly active demand for sterling exchange to-day and a paucity of material for bankers to draw against carried the rates for sight drafts up to figures at which many millions of gold have been exported within the last year. There were, however, no intimations that shipments of gold would have to be resorted to, as on previous similar occasions. The indications are that members of the Government bond syndichange at full figures. They were evidently careful to-day not to weaken the market, a fact that appeared to alarm speculators in stocks members of the syndicate to obtain the highest possible rates for their bills, not only for the mmediate profit in the transaction, but to minimise speculation in exchange. Rates close to the point at which gold is usually exported may tempt some drawers to sell their bills short, but certainly will not tempt dealers to trade on the long side of the exchange market. It would not be surprising if the rates for ex-change should keep well up to the point referred to for some time to come, since this is the season when the natural tendency of the market usually compels exports of specie. They will be avoided this year only by the power and adroitmess of the managers of the gold syndicate and their allies. Gold to the amount of $1,250,000 was deposited at the Sub-Treasury to-day on syndicate account. At the Stock Exchange $25,000 of the new Government fours were dealt in, deliverable when issued, at 11914, and private sales were reported as follows: $100,-000 at 11914, and $500,000 at 11914. In London the loan was quoted at 436 W cent. premium upon the issue price.

The bulk of the trading in stocks to-day was in the Industrial shares, two of which, Sugar Refining and Chicago Gas, supplied more than a third of the total dealings. They were also leaders in the downward movement of prices, sustaining, with Northwestern, New York Central, and Northern Pacific preferred, noteworthy | improvement to net declines. The market for Sugar Refining was amply explained by the efforts of one of the larger room traders to compel a fellow trader to liquidate his speculative holdings of the stock Chicago was a free seller of the trust certificates representing the control of the illuminating gas industry of that city, basing its operations upon a renewal of the attacks of the local Common Council and of the Attorney-General of Illinois. A new gas company fran-chise was created over night, that is, the City
